Our Motto is:

To "master your unit" means to become a fully functioning HU-MAN BEING, which means a being of divine or infinite mind, master of both the physical, ordinary world and the world of Spirit.

To "master your unit" is to de-mystify both realms of existence. Training takes you to the place where you have the tools to complete your life's purpose . . . which is the place where you no longer are in conflict, you experience yourself as an energetic being rather than something solid and fixed, you have established a profound relationship with energy and you are moving with the flow of energy. This training can be completed through video correspondence or phone meetings.

If you will apply what is given in this course day after day, week after week, year after year, and root out of your life everything that goes against harmony and clarity, you will discover that your life will start to work right. You will discover that you will start to work right, because you will have begun to live in accordance with the laws of this physical universe rather than against them and you will have the life energy of this universe backing you in every endeavor you undertake.

Whether you want to excel in your profession, improve your relationships or attain yogic awareness, this Training will show you how to build the energy, concentration, integrity, sensitivity and awareness necessary to achieve what you want in life in a way that is harmonious with all life. A person who can function with accuracy and consistency in the mundane aspects of ordinary life and who can witness his/her own mind will have the power and clarity of mind to create something extraordinary. The principles and practices of this training are simple, obvious and beautiful in their results. Rarely will you meet a person who lives them. When you do, you will notice the difference. When you start to live them, you will experience the difference. By paying attention to the small, physical details of life and the state of your own mind, you can learn to focus your energy like a laser beam and make your life into a work of art.

Program Elements

- Sensing Exercises to heighten our sensitivity and perceptibility
- How I Want To Be Treated Exercise to heal all emotional wounds and stimulate true friendships
- Practical Living Exercises to clarify and move energy in our "outer" relationships through:
 - Clear Communication
 - Conscious Use of Language
 - Completing Cycles
 - Sensitivity to objects, space, time and energy
- Witness Exercises to bring to the surface our "inner" dialogue which includes thoughts, emotions, desires, values and beliefs, in order that we may release those which are negative to furthering our goals and dreams, and choose those that propel our life in a positive and creative direction.
- Creative Plan to be designed and activated to steer your project(s) to the goal.
- Journaling to stop and reflect on the activities, thoughts, and feelings of the last 24 hours in order to witness ourselves and gauge our progress in utilizing the tools of this program.
